

DAUGHTERS OBJECT TO TERM "CIVIL WAR"

Members of National Convention Protest Against This—Decorations Day.

PLEA FOR RICHMOND HOME

Mrs. Montague Makes Address in Behalf of Confederate Institution for Needy Women.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., November 15.—The third day's session of the Daughters of the Confederacy was the largest in attendance and enthusiasm of the entire week. The women who have devoted loyalty and loving-kindness to the cause of the South, and who are in sympathy with the gentler sex in the Southland, once again showed that in spirit and truth they still love and revere the "Lost Cause" and the heroes of the sixties.

Following the morning prayer by Mrs. Henderson, the president-general, most of the morning session was taken up in reading of State reports, the following being read: District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Chicago (there being no State division in Illinois), Kentucky, Indian Territory, Louisiana, Maryland and Father Ryan Chapter, of Mexico (there being no division in that country).

The Mexico report was read by the delegate from that country, Miss Stanford, it being the first time a report from Mexico had been received in the history of the U. S. C.

Flowers were presented to Mrs. Ralph Walsh, president of the District of Columbia Division, by the Daughters of that division.

A vote of sympathy was extended Miss Caroline Walters, of Norfolk, who was hurt last night.

Literature Ruled Out.
A feature of the convention this morning was the prohibition by the president-general of the distribution in the hall of what she termed "personal literature." Her announcement that the distribution of this literature would not be permitted was greeted by loud and long-continued applause from all over the convention.

The literature said to have to do with some trouble in Tennessee.

Mrs. Montague, wife of ex-Governor Montague, of Virginia, was granted the floor and made an appeal to the convention in behalf of the Confederate Home for Needy Women, at Richmond. Action in the matter by the convention was deferred.

Toward the close of the morning's session the proceedings were highly interesting in connection with several protests that were made by delegates as to what they considered improper terms that are used by some in connection with the U. S. C. affairs. It was insisted that the full name of the organization, "United Daughters of the Confederacy," should be used and not abbreviated.

Civil War a Compromise.
The expression "Civil War" was pointed out as untrue to the fact and should not be used—that a "civil war" is a war between sections of the same country, while the fact is that the Southern Confederacy was an independent nation for four years.

The president-general said in this connection that the term "Civil War" is a compromise, and that she never knew of a compromise being made that didn't have to be paid for by some one.

One delegate wanted "Confederate war" used instead of either "Civil War" or "War between the States," but this met with much disapproval, one delegate saying that to use the expression "Confederate war" would be to make the Confederacy responsible for the war, when the fact was that the war was forced on the Confederacy. No action was taken, but the expression "War between the States" seemed to meet with the most approval.

Want "Memorial Day."
It was also objected to using the term "Decorations Day" for "Memorial Day," the idea being that "Memorial Day" is the distinctive Confederate term and should be used by the Daughters. No action was taken.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, asked that donations be made for the purchase of a fine portrait of Mrs. Jefferson Davis that has been made.

There will be a session this afternoon, following luncheon served at the hall, and at night at the hall there will be historical and musical exercises, the latter being by the Confederate choirs of this section, all the members being requested to be present.

Three sessions of the convention will be held to-morrow—morning and afternoon and night, the convention adjourning sine die at the night session.

ABANDON PLAN TO PATROL STREETS

Mass-Meeting of Citizens of Church Hill Scheduled for Last Night Called Off.

Mayor McCarthy expressed great approval yesterday over the announcement that the mass-meeting of citizens on Church Hill scheduled for last night had been called off. It was expected that a vigilance committee would be appointed to patrol the neighborhood, but the Mayor and Chief of Police Werner got to work several days ago and urged the leaders to abandon the idea.

"I don't appreciate the feeling of the citizens," said Mayor McCarthy. "I was of opinion that the move might be unwise, and for that reason I strongly urged reconsideration of the plans. Chief Werner, who is a level-headed officer, and a better politician than I, was of the opinion that the move might be unwise, and for that reason I strongly urged reconsideration of the plans."

"The police are giving special attention to the neighborhood, and they can work best when they do not have to combat violent excitement."

The Mayor and Chief Werner have held a number of conferences, at which the situation was considered from every viewpoint. No attempt would have been made to interfere with the mass-meeting, but prominent residents of Church Hill were advised to take the other course.

From all accounts, Church Hill and other sections for that matter, need better lighting facilities, rather than vigilance committees, and Council will be asked to brighten the dark places where criminals are apt to be found.

IN HANDS OF RECEIVERS.
Two Norfolk Hotels Have to Be Put in Receivers' Hands.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., November 15.—The Victoria Hotel Corporation, which owns and operates the handsome new Victoria Hotel, on Main Street, was today placed in the hands of R. W. Gamble, as receiver, by order entered in the Court of Chancery.

The financial difficulties of this corporation, which have finally resulted in the receivership, arose from the inability of the company to provide for heavy expenses incurred incidentally to the question of awarding a contract for the furnishing and stocking of the hotel in an elaborate style consistent with the hotel itself when the house opened.

The Lynnhaven Hotel, owned by the Norfolk City Realty Company, Incorporated, was today placed in the hands of John Kevan Peoples and James E. Heath, as receivers.

Banquet of Bible Class.
In the lecture-room of the Tabernacle Baptist Church the Bible class and the Philip Morris Bible classes held their annual banquet last night, and music and speeches were most enjoyable. Mr. G. Jeter Jones sang several humorous songs, and speeches were made by Congressman John Lamb, Hon. John Garland Tolland and Dr. A. L. Phillips.

Light Committee.
The Committee on Light met last night and held a long session, but none of the business disposed of was of great public interest. The question of awarding a contract for some pipe line work was discussed at length, and was finally referred to a sub-committee.

Judgment for Bank.
Judgment in the sum of $301 was rendered in the case of the National Bank in the Law and Equity Court yesterday against the Meoni Produce Company and Mrs. Florence M. Meoni.

MRS. BRADLEY AND THE MAN SHE KILLED

MRS. ANNA M. BRADLEY.

INSANITY IS MRS. BRADLEY'S DEFENSE

Attorneys for Accused Murderess Clearly Outline This in Opening Case.

SAY BROWN GAVE HER PISTOL

Defense Will Attempt to Show Crime by Him and Murderous Purpose.

WASHINGTON, November 15.—That the defense of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, on trial in Criminal Court No. 1, on the charge of murdering former United States Senator Brown, would be insanity, was made evident beyond question by the preliminary statement made to the court to-day by her attorney, Mr. Hoover. The prosecution consumed the entire forenoon in concluding the examination of its witnesses in chief to prove the facts of the killing, and when it rested the case, Mr. Hoover followed with his preliminary outline of the case for the defense. He detailed the principal events of Mrs. Bradley's life and entered minutely into the circumstances of her intimacy with Mr. Brown, saying that it would be proved that she was completely under his domination, and forecasting testimony which would be adduced to show that she was mentally irresponsible when she fired the fatal shot.

He also said it would be shown that Mr. Brown had performed more than one criminal act upon her, and that she had been driven to her pistol with which she killed him, telling her that she should use it upon his wife, if she gave her trouble.

According to Mr. Hoover's statement, it will also be shown that there is a lack of insanity in Mrs. Bradley's family.

The testimony presented to-day by the prosecution was all intended to show premeditation on the part of Mrs. Bradley in killing Senator Brown. It was stated that she had told members of the police force in this city immediately after her arrest that she had not acted under any sudden impulse, and one witness from Salt Lake City was introduced to testify to the circumstance that she had told him six months before the tragedy that she intended to kill Brown, if he did not legitimize her children by marrying her.

Another witness from that city told of efforts by Mrs. Bradley to invade Mr. Brown's house, supposedly with hostile intent. Mr. Brown, the son of the deceased Senator, was on the stand for a few moments during the day.

The court adjourned at 2 o'clock until next Monday. It is understood that when the trial is resumed the defense will stubbornly antagonize Mrs. Bradley's plea of insanity, and that the rebutting testimony will be introduced.

MR. FISH OUTLINES ISSUES CLEARLY

Former President of Illinois Central Fighting Union Pacific Control.

NEW YORK, November 15.—Styvesant Fish has addressed a letter to the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad Company regarding the adjourned meeting of the company set for December 15th. After reviewing the content of the last meeting, Mr. Fish says in part:

"It is significant that up to this date no effort has been made by the Union Pacific to dissolve the injunction as to its holdings or that of the railroad securities company, although the Mutual Life Insurance Company, with a relatively unimportant holding of only 5,500 shares, has asked to be relieved of the restraint."

"The motion does not involve the main issue, as the case of the Mutual Life turns upon fundamentally different questions of law and of fact from those involved in the cases of the Union Pacific and the Railroad Securities Company."

"The court now being waged is for the purpose of ousting me from the board of directors, of which I have been a member for thirty years, and of electing four directors dominated by E. H. Harriman, thus giving to him, with the Union Pacific directors and their adherents already in the board, the absolute control, not only of the policies of the Illinois Central Railroad, but also of its physical and financial assets and possibilities for all time."

"My colleagues and I will continue our efforts to maintain the integrity and independence of the Illinois Central Railroad Company; to prevent its absorption by interests alien to those of its stockholders and patrons; to prevent its relegation to the position of a subsidiary and to the feeder, and to preserve for its proprietors the benefits of its present prosperity and future boundless properties."

Mr. J. Fred Knowles, city passenger agent of the Norfolk and Western Railway, is spending a few days in Nelson county deer hunting. It is said the deer in that section are quite wary and hard to catch.

Mr. S. V. Moody, after a short stay in Roanoke, has returned.

FORMER SENATOR ARTHUR M. BROWN.

EDUCATORS WILL MEET IN ROANOKE

Second Annual Virginia Conference to Be Held in Magic City.

MANY PROMINENT SPEAKERS

The second annual Educational Conference of Virginia will be held in Roanoke, November 26th-29th, and it promises to be a complete success from every point of view. again patronize the bill in the House, and that it will be offered simultaneously in the Senate. He is of opinion that it will become law early in the coming session.

J. H. Mitchell, of Roanoke, is stopping at the Park Hotel.

Mr. Jefferson Davis Jacob, Commissioner of the Revenue for District No. 2, of George's Parish, of Accomac county, is in the city, and is stopping at Murphy's.

Mr. Jacob has spent the past three months in Chicago, where he has been representing the Eastern Shore Produce Exchange. He says that sweet potatoes, the main agricultural product of Accomac county, sold well in Chicago this season, and that the producers are well pleased with their returns. Mr. Jacob was one of the fortunate commissioners of the revenue to be reappointed under the new regime.

Mr. Christian, of Charles City, Has Served Thirty-Four Years.

It was a quiet day at the Capitol. Governor Swanson had but few callers, and he devoted most of his time to routine official matters. He heard attorneys for John Taylor, the Carolina negro, who is to hang next Friday for murder, but took no action.

The Governor received the following self-explanatory telegram from Secretary of State Elihu Root concerning Moses Ferris, the Syrian, who is wanted for murder in Roanoke, and who is a fugitive from justice in South America:

"Legation at Buenos Ayres cables as follows: 'Federal Court of Roga granted extradition; appealed to Federal Court of Appeal at Carabobo, which confirmed decision. Short delay allowed for bringing new appeal to the Supreme Court.'"

Matters were equally dull in other State departments. Insurance Commissioner Button was in his office, but the character of his work was "painfully routine," he said. Mr. Stuart was the only member of the State Corporation Commission in the city.

Judge Harrison, of the Supreme Court, conducted the examination of thirty-three embryo lawyers in the Library Building. Seven of the applicants are colored. The papers will be examined and reported upon later.

The whole day Judge Harrison was conducting the class.

Oldest Local Trustee.

Perhaps the oldest school trustee in point of service is Mr. T. L. Christian, of Charles City, who was a caller at the Department of Education yesterday. He has served continuously on the local board for thirty-four years. The public school system in Virginia is only thirty-seven years old, and Mr. Christian went on the board a few years after its organization. He had for his colleagues Mr. Rouse, Superintendent of Education, and Congressman John Lamb, of this city.

If Mr. Christian has a senior in the State as a trustee it is Mr. George C. Round, of Manassas, but it is probable that he outranks Mr. Round. Superintendent Eggleston was greatly interested in the official record of Mr. Christian. They talked some time about the work of the schools in Charles City.

Heard and Seen in Public Places

Former Congressman Harry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, president of the Jamestown Exposition, and a prominent candidate for the Democratic nomination for the next governorship, is in the city, and is stopping at Murphy's.

Mr. Tucker is on his way from Washington to the exposition, having been at the national capital for several days on official and private business.
